

One Textile

QUALITY FABRIC IN SHORT DELIVERY TIME
And Full Package

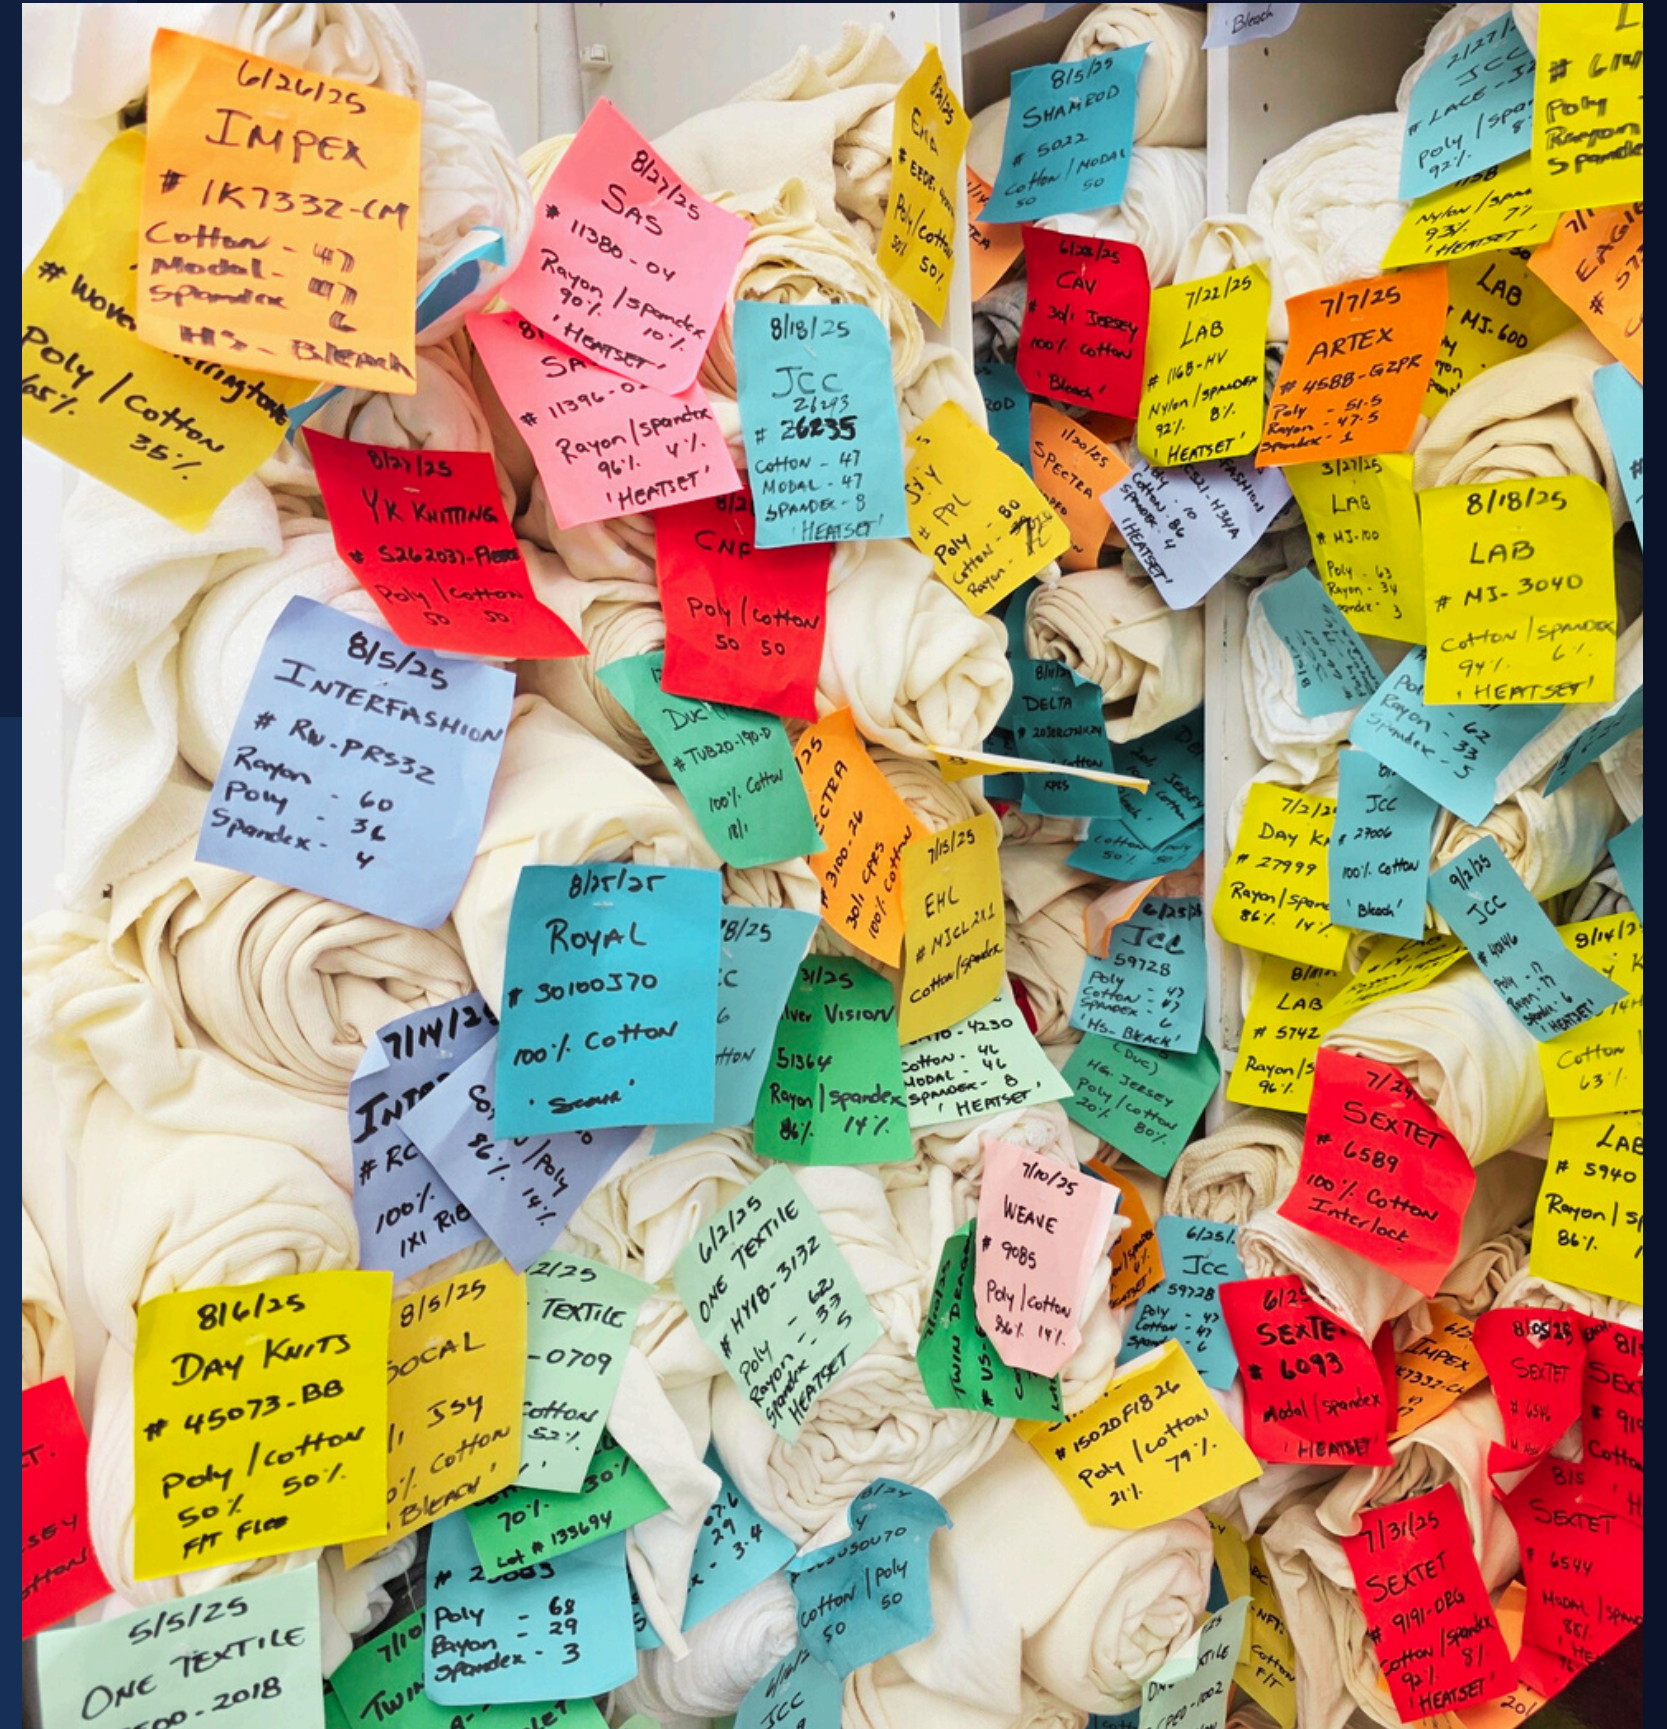

COMPANY PROFILE

BACKGROUND

The company One Textile was established in 2010 as a fabric converter and wholesaler in Los Angeles. It was originally formed to supply fabrics to small boutique shops in Los Angeles and New York.

Over the past four years, One Textile has experienced tremendous growth by partnering with a clothing manufacturer that works closely with CMT (Cut, Make, Trim) companies in Guatemala. In 2019 alone, we supplied over 7 million yards of Los Angeles-made fabric to Guatemala.

With our new Guatemala office, we are now able to serve more customers by partnering with full-package manufacturers who require fabrics that cannot be sourced elsewhere.

OUR VISION

At One Textile, we strive to be a leading company and a point of reference in the global textile industry — recognized for our ability to deliver innovative products and services that combine exceptional quality, speed, and sustainability. We aim to set new industry standards, standing out not only for the excellence of our processes and results, but also for our strong commitment to the environment and social responsibility. Our goal is to compete effectively with major players in the market and to establish ourselves as the preferred partner for international brands seeking innovation, efficiency, and excellence in every detail.

OUR MISSION

At One Textile, we work with passion and dedication to provide a complete package of textile solutions — from fabric production to the design and manufacture of finished products.

We are committed to delivering comprehensive services to international brands, built on high standards of quality, innovation, and sustainability. We optimize every stage of the process to ensure efficiency and competitive delivery times.

Our priority is to build long-lasting relationships with our customers by providing value through personalized service and a highly trained team that understands the needs of an ever-evolving global market.

COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE

The company has a competitive advantage because its dyeing facility is owned and operated under the same ownership here in Los Angeles. This allows for vertical integration and fast production turnaround, enabling quick shipments overseas under the CAFTA and USMCA (formerly NAFTA) programs in Mexico and Guatemala.

The company is capable of producing a wide range of fabrics, from basic cotton to poly-spandex blends for athletic wear. We can use 100% CAFTA-compliant yarns or partial CAFTA materials to provide fabrics with a strategic trade advantage. We are also able to supply large quantities of fabric within a short time, as well as small custom batches, to meet all of our customers' needs quickly and efficiently.

ONE TEXTILE LOCATION

We are conveniently located in Los Angeles, California. Since most buyers and producers in the U.S. are concentrated in New York and Los Angeles, we can accommodate U.S.-based customers by producing large volumes of trendy fabrics with short lead times.

Our proximity to clients also allows us to communicate directly with final buyers before CMT, ensuring quality confirmation and an attentive production process. Being in Los Angeles gives us opportunities to work with Hollywood celebrities and supply boutique stores in Beverly Hills, providing valuable insight into the latest fashion trends and enabling us to develop innovative fabrics at lower costs through our strong manufacturing infrastructure.

Our Guatemala office enhances our ability to serve customers through quick response times, local inventory storage, and production capacity in collaboration with factories in Guatemala
